Problem statement

- A general definition of what a problem statement is (for academic writing, projects, or research)?

- A sample problem statement related to a book (like a novel, play, or story you're studying)?

- Or do you need a problem statement for writing a book/project/report?

PROJECT OVERVIEW

- The aim of the Book Project is to encourage reading, critical thinking, and creative presentation by exploring a selected book. It helps students/learners understand the story, characters, themes, and the author's style while developing analytical and presentation skills.

PROJECT OVERVIEW MAIN POINTS

- Tradition vs modernity

- Marriage as a social institution

- Hidden family conflicts

- The role of women in society

BOOK ENDUSES

- 1. Keeps Books Upright – Prevents books from falling over or slanting, maintaining neatness on shelves.

- 2. Protects Books – Reduces bending of covers and spines by holding them firmly in place.

- 3. Saves Space – Helps organize books compactly without needing fully filled shelves.

PROJECT CONTAINS

- You are making a project report that needs to include information about a book?

- You want to create a project based on a book (like a review, analysis, or summary)?

- Or you are talking about a coding/digital project that contains a book portfolio or e-book?

WHO ARE THE END USERS

- A book written for users (like a user manual or guidebook)?

- A book used by a particular person or group (like a personal book or reference text)?

- Or are you asking about a specific book titled "User"?

TOOL AND TECHNOLOGIES USEd

TOOL USER

- Tradition vs Modernity – clash between old customs and new values.
- Gender roles & patriarchy – restrictions on women (Phaniyamma).
- Family & Social Pressure – central to both works.

TOOl   TECHNIQUES

* Literary tools/techniques used in books (like symbolism, irony, imagery, flashback, etc.)

*Tools for studying/analyzing books (like note-taking, annotation, mind mapping, SQ3R Method)

* Or digital/bookmaking tools (like Canva, InDesign, Scrivener, etc.)

PORTFOLIO DESIGH AND LAYOUT

- 🎨 Layout & Design Tips
- Consistent font: Serif (like Garamond, Georgia) for a literary feel.
- Page design: Use borders, page headers with book symbols.
- Images: Book covers, author photos, or thematic illustrations.
- Color palette: Neutral tones (brown, beige, cream) for a classic look.
- Creative touch: Handwritten notes or doodles (if physical).

PORTFOLIO DESIGN AND FUNCTIONALITY

- 1. Source of Knowledge – Provides information, facts, and insights.

- 2. Entertainment – Stories, novels, and plays engage readers emotionally.

- 3. Preservation of Culture – Safeguards traditions, history, and values.

- 4. Education & Learning – Acts as a tool for academic and self-learning.

- 5. Inspiration & Motivation – Encourages readers through ideas and experiences.

PROJECT BEFORE

*An overview of a book project before starting it (like planning, objectives, structure)?

*Or do you mean a sample book project that was done earlier (example project)?

*Or are you asking what to include before the main content in a book project (title page, acknowledgments, preface, etc.)?
